CC 3: Learning & Teaching

Aims of the Course

To become aware of different contexts of learning and situate schools as a special environment for learning;

To reflect on their own implicit understanding of the nature and kinds of learning;

Gain an understanding of different theoretical perspectives on learning with a focus on cognitive views of learning as well as social–constructivist theories;

Explore the possibilities of an understanding of processes in human cognition and meaning–making them as basis for designing learning environments and experiences at school; and

Appreciate the critical role of learner’s based on differences and contexts in making meanings, and hence draw out implications for schools and teachers.

UNIT 1: THEORETICAL PERSPECTIVES ON LEARNING

Implicit knowledge and beliefs about learning (demystifying misconceptions).

Perspectives on human learning: Behaviorists (conditioning paradigm in brief), cognitivist, information-processing view, humanist, social-constructivist (drawing selectively on the ideas of Skinner, Piaget, Rogers, Vygotsky).

Concepts and principles of each perspective and their applicability in different learning situations.

UNIT 2: ROLE OF LEARNER IN LEARNING

Role of learner in various learning situations, as seen in different theoretical perspectives

Role of teacher in teaching-learning situations: a) transmitter of knowledge, b) model, c) facilitator, d) negotiator, e) co-learner. (The focus is on building understanding of different psychological perspectives of learning and helping student teachers to learn to apply them in different learning situations).

Distinctions between learning as 'construction of knowledge' and learning as 'transmission and reception of knowledge'.

UNIT 3: LEARNING IN 'CONSTRUCTIVIST' PERSPECTIVE

Social-constructivist perspective (also Bruner and Ausubel's perspective) and applications of Vygotky's ideas in teaching.

Understanding processes that facilitate 'construction of knowledge':

(i) Experiential learning and reflection
(ii) Social mediation
(iii) Cognitive negotiability
(iv) Situated learning and cognitive apprenticeship
(v) Meta-cognition.
Creating facilitative learning environments, teachers' attitudes, expectations – enhancing motivation, positive emotions, self-efficacy, collaborative and self-regulated learning. (The focus is on learning as a constructive rather than a reproductive process. The learner-centered orientation has implications for understanding learning as contextual and self-regulated process and following suitable classroom practices).

UNIT 4: INDIVIDUAL DIFFERENCES AMONG LEARNERS

Dimensions of differences in psychological attributes—cognitive abilities, interest, aptitude, creativity, personality, values.

Understanding learners from multiple intelligences perspective with a focus on Gardner's theory of multiple intelligences. Implications for teaching-learning in the light of changing concept of intelligence, including emotional intelligence.

Differences in learners based on predominant 'learning styles'.

Differences in learners based on socio-cultural contexts: Impact of home languages of learners' and language of instruction, impact of differential 'cultural capital' of learners.

Understanding differences based on a range of cognitive abilities—learning difficulties, slow learners and dyslexics, intellectual deficiency, intellectual giftedness. Implications for catering to individual variations in view of ‘difference’ rather than ‘deficit’ perspective. (The focus is on understanding the differential learning needs of the learners with regard to abilities, learning styles, language, socio-cultural differences/disadvantage, learning difficulties, and their implications for classroom practices and teaching).
CC 4. Curriculum Development & School

OBJECTIVES:

To acquaint students with the nature and types of curriculum.

To acquaint students with the context of curriculum development and some Innovative Curriculum Models.

To familiarize students with Designing of Curriculum.

To give practical experience in Evaluating, Designing and Reviewing Curriculum.

CC 5. Language across the curriculum

Objectives

Aim of the Course Language is the medium for comprehending ideas, for reflection and thinking, as well as for expression and communication.

Enhancing one's facility in the language of instruction is thus a vital need of student-teachers, irrespective of the subject areas that they are going to teach.

This course is visualized as a range of primarily text-based language activities, which will aid in strengthening the ability to 'read', 'think', 'discuss and communicate' as well as to 'write' in the language of instruction.

It is likely that student teachers will begin the programme with different levels of language ability; hence group work that supports different levels of learning is envisaged as a central feature of this course.

Course outline
UNIT 1: ENGAGING WITH NARRATIVE AND DESCRIPTIVE ACCOUNTS

The selected texts could include stories or chapters from fiction, dramatic incidents, vivid descriptive accounts, or even well-produced comic strip stories.

Suggested Activities

Reading for comprehending and visualizing the account (individual plus group reading and discussion/explanation)

Re-telling the account – in one's own words/from different points of view (taking turns in a smaller group)

Narrating/describing a related account from one's life experience (in front of a smaller group)

Discussion of characters and situations – sharing interpretations and points of view (in a smaller group)

Writing based on the text, e.g. summary of a scene, extrapolation of story, converting a situation into a dialogue, etc. (individual task).

UNIT 2: ENGAGING WITH POPULAR SUBJECT-BASED EXPOSITORY WRITING

The selected texts could include articles, biographical writing, or extracts from popular non-fiction writing, with themes that are drawn from the subject areas of the student teachers (various sciences, mathematics, history, geography, literature/language pieces) For this Unit, the student-teachers should work in groups divided according to their subjects, within which different texts could be read by different pairs of student-teachers.

Suggested Activities

Reading to extract overall meaning, information, subject knowledge (guided reading in pairs and simple note making)
Identifying major concepts and ideas involved and making notes on these in some schematic form – flow diagram, tree diagram, mind map, etc. (guided working in pairs)
Explaining the gist of the text/topic to others (in the larger subject group)

Attending the writing style, subject-specific vocabulary and 'perspective' or 'reference frame' in which different topics are presented—this will vary across subjects and texts, and requires some interpretative skills for 'placing' the context of each text (group discussion and sharing)

Writing a review or a summary of the text, with comments and opinions (individual task)

UNIT 3: ENGAGING WITH JOURNALISTIC WRITING

The selected texts would include newspaper or magazine articles on topics of contemporary interest. Student-teachers can be grouped randomly for this Unit.

Suggested Activities

Using reading strategies, such as scanning, skimming and reading for extracting information – as appropriate for initial reading of articles (guided individual task)

Analysis of structure of the article, identifying sub-headings, key words, sequencing of ideas, use of concrete details, illustrations and/or statistical representations, etc. (guided working in pairs)

Critical reading for attending 'framing' of the article, point(s) of view presented, possible biases or slants (small group discussion)

Researching and writing articles on topics of local interest (working to produce a local interest magazine).

UNIT 4: ENGAGING WITH SUBJECT-RELATED REFERENCE BOOKS

For this Unit, the student-teachers should work in groups divided according to their subjects. Within these groups, pairs of student-teachers would make a choice of a specific topic in their subject area which they could research from a set of available reference books. The focus of this Unit is, as much the learning of effective processes of reference research and its presentation, as the actual reading of the reference books themselves.

Sequence of Activities
• Selecting the topic for research and articulating some guiding questions
• Searching and locating relevant reference books (could be from a school library or the institute library)
• Scanning, skimming and extracting relevant information from the books by making notes
• Collating notes and organising information under various sub-headings
• Planning a presentation – with display and oral components
• Making presentations to whole subject group, fielding questions. 18
UNIT 5: ENGAGING WITH EDUCATIONAL WRITING

Selected texts could be drawn from the wide range of popular educational writing in the form of well-written essays, extracts or chapters from authors who deal with themes from education, schooling, teaching or learning. The writings selected should present a definite point of view or argument about some aspects of the above themes. Student-teachers can be grouped randomly for this Unit.

Suggested Activities

• Reading for discerning the theme(s) and argument of the essay (guided reading- individually or in pairs)
• Analysing the structure of the argument—identifying main ideas, understanding topic sentences of paragraphs, supporting ideas and examples, terms used as connectors and transitions (guided small group discussion)
• Discussion of the theme, sharing responses and point(s) of view (small group discussion)
• Writing a response paper (individually or in pairs)
• Presentations of selected papers, questions and answers (large group)

Suggested Approach for Teaching–learning Process
Every student-teacher must participate and practice different Art forms. They need to be encouraged to visit places of arts/see performances/ exhibitions/art and craft fairs/local craft bazaars, etc. Artists and artisans may be invited for demonstrations and interactions from the community. Student-teachers should be encouraged to maintain their diary on art interactions to enhance their knowledge and awareness in this area. Student-teachers can also be motivated to interpret art works/ commercials/events etc. to enhance their aesthetics sensibility. A Resource Centre for Arts and Crafts should be a part of all the RIEs, where materials, including books, CDs, audio and video cassettes, films, software, props, art works of Regional and National level, books and journals must be displayed for the purpose of reference and continuous motivation.
Application of Arts and Aesthetics in day-to-day life, in the institute and in the community are some of the practical aspects, which needs to be taken care too. Student-teachers must organise and participate in the celebrations of festivals, functions, special days, etc.
Interns are students who is a graduate in their subject major, and are spending a four month working with experienced mentor teachers on their teaching practice while taking graduate courses in the Teacher Education department.

Mentor Teachers are experienced school teachers who mentor interns. They provide guidance, insight and opportunities for supported practice.

Supervisors work with school administrators/ Mentors to determine school experience for interns, mediate in difficult situations, and oversee interns’ progress in schools and with respect to program requirements. They are faculty who organize campus based lectures and seminars in each subject area. They provide supervision and guidance for the interns in and out of the campus.

Intern Responsibilities
Interns are students of teaching. In contrast to traditional student teaching programs, interns are not expected to begin the year ready to teach on their own. Instead, they are expected to engage in observations, co-planning and co-teaching with their mentor teachers and to build their capacity toward assuming responsibility for extended lead teaching during the semester.
Interns are in a period of transition from students to professional teachers. During this transition, they must retain the perspective of a learner as they take on the new and unfamiliar role of a teacher. Interns are expected to take an active role in their own learning and to contribute to the learning of fellow interns.

Planning and Communication
• Keep supervisor informed about classroom schedules and events
• Direct questions or concerns to supervisors or mentor
• Schedule observations and conferences with the mentor and inform supervisor of changes promptly

This highlights the intern’s field experience that contribute to the overall design of the internship year experience. In schools with other configurations of class time, interns and mentors should discuss with their field instructors how the intern’s lead teaching time will be distributed throughout the year.

Key aspects of any intern’s lead teaching schedule include:
• After the initial week or two of school, the intern should have lead teaching responsibility (but not sole teaching responsibility) for at least one class period in a week.
• Interns are novice teachers for whom out-of-class preparation and reflection takes longer than it does for more experienced teachers. Having regular time during the school day to plan well for their teaching and reflect carefully on it is vital for the growth of the intern’s practice and for the quality of the instruction they can provide to the students they share with their mentor. Interns may spend some of this time outside the classroom, and they may spend some of it in observation and analysis of the mentor’s teaching.
• In the initial internship programme, short periods of increased lead(sole) teaching responsibilities should be preceded and followed by periods during which interns return to teaching only the focus class. From each period of increased lead teaching responsibility to the next, the demands on the intern’s planning, teaching, and/or assessing should increase.
• Interns’ on-campus classes do not meet every week of the internship. During certain weeks, the classes do not meet so that interns can be in their placement schools all five days of the week. Interns’ obligations to their courses during this time focus more on at-school or in-class activities and less on lengthy reading or writing assignments
